- S38 The Carplant Trophy for the best Hackney exhibit. Presented by Carplant Limited.
- S39 Rosettes for the best and reserve best Hackney exhibits. Presented by the Hackney Horse Society.
Phase 2. CONFORMATION & TYPE

Horses must be presented on the triangle for their conformation and movement assessment. It is desirable that the presentation of animals at the triangle is properly rehearsed as follows.

- The horse will be presented before the judges at A where they will be assessed for conformation and movement.
- Horses should stand square with all four limbs bearing weight.
- Movement will be assessed on the triangle. The exhibitor will be asked to walk and trot their animal around the triangle (25m x 40m x 25m) in a clockwise direction, one round in walk and one round in trot.
- The triangle format allows the judges (who will be positioned at A) to assess natural paces from behind, side and in front allowing them to easily assess freedom of shoulder, use of back, engagement of the hock, tracking up and straightness in both paces.

Phase 3. JUMPING.

Phase 4. SUITABILITY AND POTENTIAL.

15% will be available to be awarded by the three judges acting independently in assessing each horse’s potential, based on the following criteria:

- Fluency and balance
- Horse’s attitude
- Suitability of type for purpose
- Gallop – to be shown immediately after last fence is jumped
- Overall impression

The average of the marks awarded by the judges for Suitability and Potential will be added to the horse’s accumulated scores from Phase 1, 2, and 3.

The Grand Total will be the horse’s final score and will determine its final placing. In the event of equality of marks, the jumping mark will take precedence. Should this still produce an equality of marks, the highest mark attained in the final section will be the deciding factor.
Eligibility

- Restricted to ‘Irish Bred’ horses. Only animals with named passports identifying sire, dam, dam sire, microchip and breeder may compete. Passports will be inspected before Phase 1.
- Horses must exceed 148cm without shoes.
- Open to horses foaled in 2010 and 2009.
- To be ridden by riders who have attained their 16th birthday by 1st January 2014.
- Horses must have competed in one qualifier and attained at least 60% in one.

The top 5 horses in each class at each qualifying venue will qualify for the final on 14th and 15th May at Balmoral Park providing they have attained a minimum score of 60%. If any of the top 5 horses have already qualified, horses down the line may qualify providing they have also attained a minimum score of 60%. Entry forms and class entry fees for Balmoral Show will be payable on day qualified.

CHILDREN’S PONIES

WORKING HUNTER PONIES

Only ponies in possession of a current height measurement certificate appropriate to their class may compete. This certificate should be issued in the current year by the JMB, SJAI or IPS or a certificate issued by a society or scheme approved by the FEI or issued by a society of scheme approved by such National Federation (see regulation 107).

All ponies competing in Working Hunter pony classes must be presented at the veterinary box along with their height certificate between the hours of 11.00am and 12.00 noon on Friday 16th May to declare as competing. Failure by the exhibitor or their agent to present their pony with the correct measurement certificate and to declare their intentions to compete in their appropriate class at these times will result in disqualification from the class. In this case there will be no refund of entrance fee.

Only one pony may be ridden by the same rider in each class.

PHASES OF JUDGING

Judging will be carried out in two phases and final placing will be based on the sum of points gained in each phase.

Phase 1: jumping, style and way of going

Ponies will be required to jump a course of eight to ten fences, which have a natural appearance. The style of jumping and way of going will be marked by the judge, refusals etc will be penalised, as follows:

- First refusal, run out or disobedience – 15 penalty marks.
- Second refusal, run out or disobedience – 20 penalty marks.
- Third refusal, run out or disobedience – elimination.
- Jumping knock down – 10 penalty marks.
- Fall of pony or rider – elimination.

In the interests of safety, competitors may NOT remount.

Ponies which are eliminated will not go forward to phase 2.

Phase 2: riding manners, performance, conformation, movement, type

At the judge’s discretion, ponies will proceed directly to Phase 2 to again be assessed on their way of going, this time without the fences. Ponies will not be ridden by the judge. From this the judge will award marks for manners and performance, conformation and movement, and type. These marks will be added to those received from phase 1, to give an overall result. These results will be announced and prizes will be awarded from 1st to 6th place.

Phase 1

| Jumping     | 50 marks |
| Style and way of going | 10 marks |

Phase 2

| Manners and performance | 20 marks |
| Conformation and movement | 15 marks |

CONNEMARA PONIES - WORKING HUNTER
SPONSORED BY NORTH DOWN MARQUEES

In association with the Northern Ireland Connemara Pony Association.

Derryronane Stud will present a rug for the winner of class 71 and 72.

Only one pony may be ridden by the same rider in each class.

The order of judging will be by draw and the draw will be printed in the catalogue. Declarations MUST be made 15 minutes prior to time of judging, this will facilitate the veterinary inspection of passports before ponies enter the judging ring.

PHASES OF JUDGING

Judging will be carried out in two phases and final placing will be based on the sum of points gained in each phase.

Phase 1: jumping, style and way of going

Ponies will be required to jump a course of eight to ten fences, which have a natural appearance. The style of jumping and way of going will be marked by the judge, refusal etc will be penalised, as follows:

- First refusal, run out or disobedience – 15 penalty marks.
- Second refusal, run out or disobedience – 20 penalty marks.
- Third refusal, run out or disobedience – elimination.

Jumping knock down – 10 penalty marks.
Fall of pony or rider – elimination.
In the interests of safety, competitors may NOT remount.

Ponies which are eliminated will not go forward to phase 2.

Phase 2: riding manners, performance, conformation, movement, breed type

At the judge’s discretion, ponies will proceed directly to phase 2 to again be assessed on their way of going, this time without the fences. Ponies will not be ridden by the judge. From this the judge will award marks for manners and performance, conformation and movement, and breed type. These marks will be added to those received from phase 1, to give overall result. These results will be announced and prizes will be awarded from 1st to 6th place.

The maximum points to be awarded will be:

Phase 1:
- Jumping 40 marks
- Style and way of going 10 marks

Phase 2:
- Manners and performance 20 marks
- Conformation and movement 15 marks
- Breed type 15 marks
- Total 100 marks

Fences Classes 71 and 72, minimum 69cm, maximum 99cm, max spread 84cm.

No change of tack is allowed during the competition, except boots, which may be used for Phase 1. Bandages, bitless bridles, standing martingales, gag snaffles and hackamores are not allowed. Blunt 2½cm spurs allowed only in class 72.

Following in the footsteps of his grandmother the Queen Mother, HRH Prince Charles is the patron of the Aberdeen-Angus Cattle Society. The Prince of Wales has a successful Aberdeen-Angus herd at Highgrove and takes an active interest in the Castle of Mey herd in Caithness which is now run by The Queen Elizabeth Castle of Mey Trust.

The Aberdeen-Angus breed was developed in the early part of the 19th century from the polled and predominantly black cattle of north-east Scotland, known locally as “doddies” and “hummlies”.

The earliest families trace back to the middle of the 18th century but it was much later that the Herd Book (1862) and the Society (1879) were founded.

Why Aberdeen-Angus?
The Aberdeen-Angus breed is recognised throughout the world and is the only beef breed to have true “brand” characteristics.

In an era where easy management, economy of production and superior beef qualities have never been more important, the Aberdeen-Angus offers endless advantages for many livestock systems.

With support from retailers such as Waitrose and Marks & Spencer and food outlets such as Burger King, demand for Aberdeen-Angus is soaring, presenting commercial beef producers with a huge opportunity to produce a product which the market requires and is prepared to pay a premium for.

The white-faced Hereford is renowned for its excellent docility, easy fleshing, longevity and great fertility. Hereford Cattle have been bred for feed conversion efficiency without adversely affecting ease of calving and carcase quality. Beef traits are recorded in Breedplan, the universally recognised livestock performance programme and can be viewed on the Society’s website www.herefordcattle.org.

Great phenotype variability means that the Hereford is an animal capable of adapting to all types of production systems and environmental conditions.

Due to its distinctive flavour, natural marbling and renowned eating quality, Hereford beef is in strong demand both within the UK and overseas. For details of why Hereford beef tastes so good and where it can be purchased please view www.herefordbeef.org.uk

BEEF CATTLE

CHAROLAIS

SPONSORED BY ABP FOOD GROUP

The British Charolais Cattle Society Limited was the first of the continental cattle beef breed societies to be founded in the United Kingdom. The date of the inauguration was 27th July 1962.

At the October 2012 Stirling sales the average price for Charolais bulls was £7,699, with the top priced bull Vexour Garth setting a new breed record price of 100,000 guineas for his breeder Jan Boomaars. The purchasers were the North American based Livestock Capital Company

In France, the homeland of the breed, there are some two million purebred Charolais females, which are commercial suckler cows. The value of the Charolais female as a suckler cow has been underestimated in the United Kingdom. However, with the re-introduction of beef over thirty months of age into the food chain and the decoupling of headage payments in the CAP mid-term review, these factors will make Charolais females an attractive proposition as was the case prior to the imposition of the Over Thirty Months Scheme in 1996.

Within the breed there is a tremendous variation of type ranging from the taller, smoother muscled bulls to the heavier double-muscled bulls. This variation in type is essential to meet the requirements as dictated by the type of system or environment where beef production is carried out.

The Charolais breed is primarily a terminal sire beef breed. Having the ability to combine fast growth rates with top conformation grades, so maximising the profit potential for both single suckled calf producers and dairy farmers using Charolais in a cross-breeding programme.

Charolais-bred stores are also a firm favourite with the beef finisher as the breed has the ability to convert high roughage diets efficiently into prime beef, and have been receiving a premium price, paid by beef finishers at the store cattle sales.

Data received from the McIntosh Donald abattoir at Portlethen, Aberdeenshire, calculated from over one million head of cattle processed through the plant, that Charolais sired cattle are on average 14kg of carcass weight heavier and the days to slaughter are 22 days earlier, which equates to approximately a Charolais advantage of £125 per head.

Charolais breeders performance record their cattle through ABRI (Agricultural Business Research Institute) in Armidale, Australia, to identify the easy calving, fast growing cattle of good conformation. Those bulls with good Charolais performance information are commanding a premium throughout the many Society Sales, which are held under the auspices of the British Charolais Cattle Society. Underpinning the successful pedigree industry is the ability of the breed to perform in the commercial market by producing acceptable carcass weights of good conformation very efficiently.

Not to be under-estimated is the value of the Charolais cross-bred heifers which have been a bonus at the recent suckled calf sales. The extra kilos, at a given age, have put Charolais bulls on the top of the shopping list for terminal sires which has reflected in an increased demand for Charolais bulls.

Charolais breed cattle are also well placed to face the demands for future beef production, where fast growing cattle will be in vogue for reducing carbon foot prints, and reducing methane emissions in commercial beef production.
ABP Food Group is one of Europe’s leading food producers and is proud to source premium beef and lamb from Northern Ireland’s family farms.

SIMMENTAL SPONSORED BY ABP FOOD GROUP

The British Simmental Cattle Society Limited will present champion and reserve champion rosettes.

Simmentals are known as one of the world’s most adaptable breeds, having been successfully introduced into all five continents. The breed’s population of 41 million shows the ability of the breed to satisfy different breeding programmes throughout the world. In Europe, the Simmental is bred as a dual purpose beef and dairy breed but in the United Kingdom it has been developed as a beef breed. Simmental has been bred in the United Kingdom for 40 years and has established itself as one of this country’s premier beef breeds both as a sire of crossbred suckler cattle and as a fast growing terminal sire.

As part of the national suckler herd, the Simmental has proved very successful. Its ability to milk calves to weaning off grass, makes it an ideal choice under the current single farm payment system when fast growth and low input provides a premium. High fertility, an outstandingly docile nature, hardiness, good mothering ability and milk, enable the breed to be used as a superior suckler cow.

As a terminal sire the Simmental passes its outstanding fast growing ability to its progeny in any system from extensive grass fed production to intensive bull beef which can mature as early as 12 months. The breed adapts easily to the most varied conditions from rural small-holder to large extensive farming operations.

195 BEEF CATTLE

Specials
British Limousin is the largest numerical beef breed in the United Kingdom, accounting for 30% of the 1.67 million cattle registered with the British Cattle Movement Service (BCMS). Each year around 500,000 Limousin-sired cattle are registered representing an annual industry value of approximately £600 million.

The Limousin’s share of beef sired registrations in England, Scotland and Wales is 30% which equates to 495,510 Limousin-sired calves born in the past year, more than the breeds in second and third place combined. Leading nationally, and in each of the home nations, the figures are also supported by Livestock & Meat Commission (LMC) in Northern Ireland whose figures for the 2013 year reveal a Limousin market share of 32% or 98,007 of the 309,645 beef-sired calves registered in the preceding year.

These figures come on the back of what was a very successful year for the Limousin breed and British Limousin Cattle Society. In the course of 2013, BLCS sales of pedigree Limousin cattle reached £5.7 million. Over 19,000 pedigree calves were also registered by the Society’s 2,800 breeder members, breaking the 19,000 barrier for the fourth straight year. Commercially relevant pedigree Limousin cattle also enjoyed a memorable year in the show ring with the breed winning a “Super Six” of titles at the 2013 Winter Primestock events including Alams. Sixteen interbreds at the four summer ‘major’ shows were also secured for the Limousin breed.

First imported into the United Kingdom from France in 1971, and here in Northern Ireland in 1975, the Limousin breed has built its reputation on being ‘The Carcase Breed’, a breed able to produce quality beef with a low proportion of bone and fat. Its influence on British Beef production has been borne through its advantages in calving ease, growth, milk, fertility, feed efficiency, killing-out percentage and meat yield unpinning why Limousin is the beef industry’s number one.

The Limousin’s ability to produce ½ bred and ¾ bred carcasses with excellent conformation, a top killing out percentage and a top yield of saleable meat (73.3%), make it well suited to the market needs of a consistent, quality beef product. Breeders continue to make huge strides in the genetic improvement of the breed and beef cattle providing commercial calves with lower costs of production and a higher end value. An early maturing breed, the Limousin provides young but mature beef in the medium weight range demanded both by butchers and supermarkets.

Limousin bulls are known for their fleshing qualities, lighter bone, fertility, and for the extra conformation they pass to all progeny, whatever the dam. Limousin suckler cows can be found on both upland and lowland systems. They are renowned for ease of calving and ease of management, vital factors in today’s farming economy. A good milking ability and excellent fertility is complemented by a natural hardiness and thriftiness.

The Blonde breed is a purebred originating in the south of France, with the first herdbook opened in 1898. Three ancient draft breeds, Garonnais, Quersey and Pyrenean Blonde merged to form the beginnings of the Blonde breed as-is today. The Blondes’ adaptability results from the diverse climate of the area of their development, which ranged from hot humid coastal plains, to hills with hot dry summers, to the rocky and cold Pyrenees Mountains with sparse vegetation. Their muscle development, hardiness and docility remain from the breed’s days as draft animals.

From its introduction to Northern Ireland in 1981, Blondes have consistently gone from strength to strength, presently in excess of 1,800 breeding females. Today’s Blonde breed has all the attributes necessary to meet the stringent requirements of a modern beef industry. Selective breeding over the past 30 years has produced Elite Terminal Sires that combine ease of calving with impressive growth rates that consistently produce carcasses with good conformation and high kill-out percentages. These qualities have attracted many farmers and butchers to the breed, with Blonde cows and commercial semen in demand, providing the farmer with an excellent product to market. This demand has been recognised due to the blonde cow’s attributes as good mothers, to give birth to lively, thrifty calves, quick to keep up and develop into growthy young animals with a shorter birth to slaughter interval compared to other breeds, therefore enabling the farmer to take maximum returns from his herd.

Having a Blonde as the terminal sire in your herd, whatever the breed, will enhance its potential to gain on their feet developing into growthy young animals with a shorter birth to slaughter interval compared to other breeds, therefore enabling the farmer to take maximum returns from his herd.

When today’s markets demand quality and efficiency, choosing a ‘BLONDE’ will make a significant difference.

BEEF CATTLE

Salers

“The Ultimate Suckler Dam. Truly Outstanding Easy Calving.”

The Salers has the largest pelvic area of the major beef breeds, which combined with its shorter than average gestation leads to stress free calving, saving sleepless nights, vet’s bills and extending the working life of the cow. Most importantly it gives the calves an excellent start, which enhances their vigour and cuts mortality. Salers calves are noted for their ‘get up and suck’.

Milky Fertile Cows – The Salers is the ideal suckler dam having been selected over the centuries for the maternal traits of high milk yield from rough forage, early maturity (first calf at two years old) and short calving interval. She is capable of calving the progeny from the most muscled terminal sires without assistance.

Come visit us at the Salers Cattle stand and see outstanding Salers stock at the Londonderry Hall

The Beef Shorthorns have a proud history with its pedigree registration going back to 1822, the first Coates’s herd book. Originating and developed in the north of England and known worldwide as Shorthorns, they have been used as a pioneer breed to develop the foundations in the world’s leading beef producing countries. Over 40 different breeds worldwide have originated from the original Shorthorn cattle. Its natural hardiness, fertility, ease of calving and mothering ability make the Beef Shorthorn an essential ingredient in the suckler cow of today.

The eating quality of Shorthorn, with its succulent taste due to the marbling qualities of the meat, is also being widely recognised, and Morrisons supermarket last year increased the premium paid for Beef Shorthorn sired cattle to 30p/kilo.

Shorthorn crosses females are in great demand as suckler cows, proving their worth, due to their easy calving, and their excellent mothering ability producing calves with good live weight gains. Their hardiness, fertility, and good conversion of forage are all essential traits in the ideal suckler cow.

Prices at the Perth Sales reached a record high last year with bulls being very much in demand by commercial buyers. Calf registrations and Society Membership have quadrupled since 2001 as breeders turn to the native foraging breeds, looking for cows which will fulfil the niche market for tasty marbled beef, without the need for a high concentrate input.

Disease problems on livestock farms are a growing concern and the Beef Shorthorn Cattle Society has taken a lead role in addressing the problems by introducing mandatory blood testing of all animals at Disease problems on livestock farms are a growing concern and the Beef Shorthorn Cattle Society has taken a lead role in addressing the problems by introducing mandatory blood testing of all animals at...

IRISH MOILED

The Irish Moiled Cattle Society will present £100 towards to the breed championship from the Brian Burnett Fund.

The Irish Moiled is the only surviving domestic livestock native to Northern Ireland.

The Irish Moiled Cattle Society was formed in 1926 and reformed again in 1982 when there were less than 30 purebred females left in the world. A breed that was so close to extinction has really come back with a vengeance.

Moiled is the only surviving domestic livestock native to Northern Ireland.

The return of the Irish Moiled breed to Balmoral is supported by the Irish Moiled Cattle Society and prize money is donated through the Brian Burnett fund. The Pennielea Trophy and the Tully Farm Cup are the champion and reserve champion Dexter animal. Presented by the Society.

DAIRY CATTLE

DAIRY SHORTHORN

The Dairy Shorthorns of today are the modern version of the world’s oldest pedigree breed, many tracing back to the first volume of Coates’ Herd Book, the world’s first Herd Book published in 1822. The Breed has also been used as the foundation for over 40 other world famous breeds.

These cattle are enjoying an upsurge in interest from many farmers who are wishing to take advantage of the adaptability and modern outlook.

They are of very docile temperament and extremely hardy, making them equally suited either for milking or suckling on all types of land and climates.

Colours within the breed range from white, through to roan and red. Noted for ease of calving, having the lowest incidence of calving problems of any breed, this also makes her ideal for crossing with other breeds, as the strong hybrid traits will be transferred.

They also have excellent feet and legs which seldom require attention making them equally suited for intensive or extensive systems and it is all these qualities that makes them so popular for organic systems, where the ability to thrive with minimum attention is essential.

The contemporary Shorthorn is very much a ‘dual profit’ cow with the ability to give high yields, if required, with a high percentage of protein and with a small fat globule. She produces a calf which is hardy and can grow into meat or a milker, and above all has a very long productive life.

Controlled cross breeding programmes and comprehensive breed improvement schemes involving performance and progeny testing have resulted in a modern dairy animal capable of high yields of milk whilst retaining the inherent advantageous traits of a native breed.

JERSEY

Jersey cattle originate from Jersey, the largest island in the Channel Islands, and just some 14 miles away from the French coast. The Jersey shares a common ancestry with not only the Guernsey breed but also those cattle found on the Normandy and Brittany coasts. This type of cattle is believed to have originally travelled up across Europe from the Middle East.

Jerseys are known to exist in the UK mainland since 1741 and probably well before. At that time they were known as Aldemeyes.

The Jersey is relatively small in size – about 400 to 450kg in weight. It is typically light brown in colour, though this can range from being almost grey to dull black, which is known as Mulberry. They can also have white patches which may cover much of the animal. A true Jersey will however always have a black nose bordered by an almost white muzzle. The Jersey hard black feet are much less prone to lameness.

The Jersey can now be found across the world with a large population in countries such as Australia, Canada, Denmark, New Zealand, South Africa, USA, and Zimbabwe, as well as here in the UK.

After the Holstein the Jersey is the second most popular specialist dairy breed worldwide. Jerseys thrive under both extremes of temperature – they can grow thick coats in very cold climates, whilst suffering from much less heat stress than the other dairy breeds in hotter regions of the world.

Jerseys perform well under a wide range of systems, from the feedlots of California to the grazing only systems of Australia and New Zealand.

Despite her small size the Jersey is renowned for its ease of calving, allowing it to be crossed with the larger beef breeds. Many herds of Jerseys in the UK now average well over 5,000kg of milk produced per cow per year, with 18% more protein, 20% more calcium, 24% more fat, 25% more butterfat than “average” milk.

Jersey milk is in many ways unique. As a product it contains: 18% more protein, 20% more calcium, 24% more fat, 25% more butterfat than “average” milk. It is also rich in colour, which is naturally produced from carotene, an extract from grasses (the cows natural food).

Many herds of Jerseys in the UK now average well over 5,000kg of milk produced per cow per year, with the best individual animals yielding around 9,000kg or higher.

Jersey milk is noted for its high quality – it is particularly rich in protein, minerals and trace elements. It is also rich in colour, which is naturally produced from carotene, an extract from grasses (the cows natural food).

Jersey milk is in many ways unique. As a product it contains: 18% more protein, 20% more calcium, 25% more butterfat than “average” milk.
